MY DESIGN STYLE CAN BE DESCRIBED AS... Reflective of the family and the environment. I am inspired by nature and the aspirations of my client, whether it's a retreat in the mountains, a beach house or a sophisticated urban dwelling.

THE KEY ELEMENT IN MY DESIGNS IS... Creating an environment through rich textures, lasting materials and extreme comfort. I believe an interior can be timeless and classic with elements that let the owner's personality, art and collections enhance their home.

NO MOUNTAIN HOUSE SHOULD BE WITHOUT... The natural materials that draw one to the mountains: the warmth of a roaring fire in a stone fireplace, the reclaimed materials used in a rustic wood library or the perfect aged leather chair that always calls you back.

THE BEST WAY TO UPDATE A ROOM IS TO... First recognize what you love about the space and then decide what is missing. Through the process of thoughtful examination, you can begin to decide how you want to renew the space and the energy it provides you. It can be as simple as adding new artwork or reupholstering the sofa to bring it to life.

BIOGRAPHY A leading force in the interior design community for more than 25 years, William Peace, ASID, is known for his sophisticated, approachable interiors that are clearly defined. Founder of Peace Design, a full-service interior design firm with offices in Atlanta and Bozeman, Peace has created interiors for signature residences, destination restaurants, museums and select showrooms throughout the country. His timeless, classic interiors have been featured in the pages of Veranda, Architectural Digest, Western Interiors and Atlanta Homes & Lifestyles. Most recently, Peace's work has been featured in a new book, Ranches of the American West. He has also been a frequent guest on radio and television interior design programs. Peace is the recipient of numerous national and regional awards including the prestigious National ASID Project award for residential interiors and the Atlanta Decorative Arts Center's Southeast Designer of the Year. 349 Peachtree Hills Ave. NE, Suite C2, Atlanta 30305.
