THE BEST OF THE BEST

William Peace, Peace Design
www.peacedesign.com

William Peace, founder and principal of Peace Design, is nationally renowned for his sophisticated interiors that meld modern and rustic elements to create authentic, refined, and timeless interiors. Peace incorporates aspects of his native South, the American West, and Native Americana with rustic, traditional, and contemporary architecture, furnishings, art, and objects to yield a stellar portfolio of unique and highly individualized residences, ranches, and hospitality design.

Peace has been widely published, serves on the Design Advisory Board of his alma mater University of Kentucky, and is the recipient of numerous national and regional awards including the prestigious ASID Design Achievement Award, Southeast Designer of the Year, the Palladio Award for Residential Interiors, ICAA Rocky Mountain Jacques Benedict Award for Commercial Interiors, and the ICAA Texas John Staub Award for Residential Interiors. He also had the honor of serving as a judge for the 2024 ICAA Acanthus Awards.

From offices in Atlanta, Georgia and Bozeman, Montana, the Peace Design team collaborates with the most respected architects, landscape architects, builders, artists, and artisans throughout the country. Peace is also a member of the Design Leadership Network.
